Dear Ben Hastings,

Hello my name is Connor Finn. Brian Cipresse, my uncle, provided me with your contact information.

I am writing to express interest in a possible software internship opportunity at BrightSign starting in September 2024 and would be open to three to six month assignments. Though I'm not certain if such a position exists, I appreciate your time and consideration looking into the possibility on my behalf.

My degree is a Bachelor of Science in Computer Science from the University at Buffalo, where I gained experience with Agile software development across two separate semester-long group projects my senior year building social media websites in React JS. In addition to software coding, I engaged in sprint-based development using ZenHub where I wrote user stories and test cases. I am also familiar with GIT version-control, working with multiple engineers, resolving merge conflicts and resolving bugs.

I look forward to the possibility of discussing how my qualifications align with the needs of BrightSign in greater detail and would be honored to work with such a talented software team on a best-in-class product; my Uncle said the team and product are pretty great!

Thank you, once again, for your time and consideration. I greatly appreciate it.

Sincerely,

Connor Finn
